Changing how you and your adviser can claim tax deductions on your personal super contributions

From May 2026, your adviser will be able to notify us of your intent to claim or vary a tax deduction for your personal super contributions. Your adviser will be able to submit the request online on your behalf. This change is relevant to the sections in the disclosure documents titled 'Claiming tax deductions for your contributions'.

Updates to Third Party Access

A new 'Third party access' subsection is introduced to the 'Reporting' section of all disclosure documents as follows:

Third party access

We may disclose information about you and your account to a third party where we are authorised to do so. What they can do depends on the type of third party and their level of authority:

- An Individual Third Party can be granted secure online access to view information and reports. Authority to provide instructions can only be granted to an individual appointed as your Power of Attorney.
- A Professional Third Party can be provided with information and certain reports via secure data feeds or on-request reports.

In the 'Terminology used' section of the Macquarie Super and Pension Consolidator II PDS, Macquarie Super and Pension Manager II PDS, and Macquarie Super and Pension (Macquarie Vision) PDS, the definition of 'Third Party' is being replaced by two new definitions:

- Individual Third Party - An individual, such as a spouse, family member, or an individual acting under a Power of Attorney, whom you authorise to have secure online access to view information and reports for your account via digital banking. Authority to provide instructions is limited to an individual acting under a Power of Attorney.
- Professional Third Party - A financial services company or professional, such as an accountant, whom you authorise to receive information and reports. Access for a Professional Third Party is provided via secure data feeds or on-request reports and does not include access to digital banking.

If a particular disclosure document does not refer to these updated definitions, these changes nevertheless apply to the product.

Update to eligible investments (excluding Macquarie Super Accumulator)

We're updating our eligible Australian listed investments to include securities listed on Cboe Australia, in addition to securities listed on the ASX. You can find more information in the relevant Investment Menu when these investments become available.
