1. Are you relying on base income only for servicing?

If yes, the following options are available:

At least two computer generated payslips containing the following minimum information:

- The applicant's name, employer's name or ABN (if applicable), pay period, gross and net pay, and year-to- date (YTD) income (if applicable).
- The latest payslip must be no more than 60 days old as at the date of submission, and the oldest payslip being no more than four months old as at the date of submission.

If two payslips are not yet available, one computer generated payslip containing the minimum information outlined above being no older than 60 days as at submission PLUS a signed copy of an employment contract/letter detailing the commencement date and base income.

2. Are you relying on more than base income (e.g. overtime, commission, shift allowances) for servicing?

If yes, the following options are available:

At least two computer generated payslips containing the minimum information as outlined above are acceptable so long as the YTD figure covers at least three months.

Note: YTD income can be annualised to determine an annual wage, which may also include regular overtime, commission and shift allowances, however caution should be exercised annualising income where either of the two payslips provided do not show any overtime, commission or shift allowance payments being received or the nature of the employment is seasonal.

Where the YTD is missing, or the YTD is less than three months then one of the following forms of additional income verification is required (in addition to the payslips):

- The most recent financial year's PAYG summary (ATO assessment notice only required where handwritten) or ATO income statement (where status indicator is 'Tax Ready'); OR
- The most recent financial year's tax return (ATO assessment notice only required where handwritten).

3. Are you relying on casual or PAYG contractor income for servicing?

If yes, the following options are available:

At least two computer generated payslips containing the minimum information as outlined above are acceptable so long as the YTD figure covers at least six months.

Note: YTD income can be annualised to determine an annual wage.

Where the YTD is missing, or the YTD is less than six months then one of the following forms of additional income verification is required (in addition to the payslips):

- The most recent financial year's PAYG summary (ATO assessment notice only required where handwritten) or ATO income statement (where status indicator is 'Tax Ready'); OR
- The most recent financial year's tax return (ATO assessment notice only required where handwritten).

Where the applicant is employed through a family owned or controlled company, any TWO of the following income verification options are to be provided:

At least two computer generated payslips containing the minimum information as outlined above. Alternatively, in lieu of payslips, the current financial year income statement showing "Year to date" and no older than 60 days at submission can be provided (available via my.Gov.au).

Bank Statements evidencing the most recent 6 months of regular salary credits.

The most recent individual tax return and ATO tax assessment notice (if the ATO notice of assessment is not available, an accountant's confirmation of lodgement is acceptable). Alternatively, the previous financial year ATO income statement showing "Tax Ready" Status can be provided (available via my.Gov.au).

Please note, the above does not apply in cases where the PAYG applicant works for a self-employed spouse and both applicants are parties to the loan where self-employed income verification requirements are to be followed.
